These ain't your mama's dress shoes. Founded in 1975 as an extension of a family-owned business, Spanish company Camper Shoes blends graphic ingenuity and edgy display with timeless tradition and quality materials. Camper Shoes are designed to be worn – everywhere.

Culturally diverse, highly functional, aesthetically pleasing shoes are the driving force behind the Camper company. Sophisticated design and simple functionality are king. Camper shoes for Edge of Urge show this international shoe designer's love of tradition – and of breaking the mold.

The Camper line is as diverse as its buyers. Mix gin and polite (sassy) company in a pair of Camper high heel glossy blue "Paint Dolfi" shoes – or the shiny orange "Agusta Helena" orange patent Camper sandal heels. The slick, sexy finish and casually modest heel take you through your 9-5 OR your nighttime shenanigans. Channel turn-of-the-century class in "Eva," Camper's waxy black side-button ankle boots with contrasting cherry snaps. Or, party on the patio on a balmy day in Camper's "Mercat Casi" woven wedge sandal shoes with alluring ankle straps.

Camper shoes are casual comfort mixed with cool, crafty style. Camper shoes, boots, and high heels are made with genuine, water-resistant leather, and lovingly stitched to last a long time. The ergonomically correct soles promote good health and maximum comfort for your tootsies and foot joints. These stylin' shoes let you stroll with ease – and a creative twist. Relax. Camper shoes get you there in style.
